

New managed service company calculator released

Today we have launched a brand new calculator for contractors to help them determine if they are caught within the new Managed Service Company Legislation, and what the financial impact is likely to be.

Dave Chaplin, CEO of Contractor Calculator says, "The recent attack on contractors by the Treasury will result in a huge loss of income for many contractors who do not prepare themselves for the impending changes in April. This simple calculator will tell you if you are caught, what the financial impact will be, and what action to take to avoid any decrease in pay."
